

Reserve Funds' Updated Distribution Schedule

New York, January 28, 2009 - Reserve Management Company, Inc. (RMCI), the Funds' adviser, announces an update to the distribution schedule for certain Reserve Funds. This schedule provides an estimate of when we expect to make cash distributions for these various Funds. However, distributions may be delayed if we are unable to complete the necessary reconciliation process and, in some cases, if a Fund's Plan of Liquidation is not finalized.

The expected amounts of partial cash distributions are also set forth below and are subject to change. If a meaningful amount of additional portfolio holdings are sold prior to the distribution date, the distribution amount could be increased. RMCI is acting as expeditiously as markets permit to restore liquidity to investors in order to distribute the remaining balances.

In all four cases where a final cash distribution is to be made, all investors will have received $1.00 per share held in a Fund as has been the case with all previously liquidated Funds. The final distributions will include each Fund's net assets and any accrued income, less the respective Fund's expenses.

As changes occur, we will continue to update this distribution schedule on our website at TheR.com.
